eLearning (C-leL)

Introduction

The Communications and Publications Division (CPD) has responsibility for all publication and public relations activities of the IFCC. These include the eJIFCC, the IFCC newsletter, the website and the development of promotional material.

The CPD consists of an Executive Committee together with a number of Committees and Working Groups.

Committee on Internet and eLearning

The C-leL is responsible for the coordination of the Internet activities of the IFCC, primarily through the IFCC web site. This includes preparation, maintenance, improvement and promotion of the IFCC website, establishment of links between relevant resources and the production and participation in Internet and computer based educational courses designed to promote the IFCC and educate its members. The C-leL is also responsible for supporting the Education and Management Division (EMD) through the creation and promotion of web-based distance-learning educational activities. The C-leL promotes a multidisciplinary approach to patient care by obtaining educational material, making it available on the web site and by providing links to other relevant resources.

There are two open positions available on the C-leL as of January 1, 2012.

The candidate will be able to demonstrate a commitment to the promotion and reinforcement of the IFCC, its goals and its image.

- be proficient with information and communication technologies
- be able to monitor technical progress in the fields of activity

The amount of work is equivalent to 1-3 days per month.
